Scope and Content

The scope of the collection ranges from the early 1940s to 2000 and is focused primarily on the 1960s and 1970s, though many cartoons remain undated. Darden's collection consists of original artwork from cartoonists he interviewed for his Master's thesis in the late 1970s. Over 150 cartoons includes pieces created in charcoal, pencil, and pen and ink on paper.

Contributing artists to the collection include Darden, Bob Dale, Jack "Herc" Ficklen, Sam Nash, Jack Hamm, Bill McClanahan, Dan Foote, and John Knott. Frank Lanning, Charles L. Ramsay, Charlie Daniel, John Riedell, Rudy Dreadholly, Woodi Ishmael, Vaughn Shoemaker, Vic Runtz, Bruce Stark, Clyde Peterson ("CP Houston"), Ben Humeniuk, Jim Palmer, Draper Hinn, Stan Lynde, Bob Murphy, Wayne Stayskal, and James Dobbins.

Pieces appeared in publications such as the Baylor Lariat, San Antonio Express-News, Anchorage Times, Dallas Morning News, Tyler Courier-Times, Religious Drawings, "Out of Orbit," and Dallas Times Herald. Many of the cartoons address topics such as Texas sports, the oil industry, US politics, foreign and domestic policies, taxes, lunar landings, US Foreign relations, the Cold War, Vietnam War, the economy, and Presidents Gerald Ford and Jimmy Carter.

Administrative/Biographical History

Robert F. Darden is a writer, professor, musician, researcher, and cartoonist. Born in 1954, Darden completed his BSED in 1976 at Baylor University and his Master's in Journalism in 1978 at the University of North Texas. He was a recipient of the Rotary Foundation Fellowship, which he used to continue his education in art history and film at the University of Bristol in England.

Darden held positions for several publications throughout his early career. He worked as the Arts and Entertainment Editor at The Waco Tribune-Herald from 1978 to 1986, the Gospel Music Editor for Billboard Magazine from 1984 to 1994, and Senior Editor of the The Wittenburg Door, a Christian satire and humor magazine.

From 1988-2023, Darden was a professor at Baylor University. He served as an adjunct professor in the English department until 1999, when he secured a tenured position as an Associate Professor of Journalism, Public Relations, and New Media. Darden has published over 25 books, including People Get Ready!: A New History of Black Gospel Music in 2004, the work which resulted in the Black Gospel Music Restoration Project.

Darden's work in connection to the editorial cartoon collection pertained to his Master's thesis centering on three artists of The Dallas Morning News: John Knott, Herc Ficklen, and Bill McClanahan. Darden also submitted his own editorial cartoons as a student at Baylor for The Lariat, and his career as a journalist included interviews with Texas editorial cartoonists whose works later became part of his collection.
