Scope and Content

The W. R. "Bob" Poage Personal papers contain items from 1766 to 2008, with the bulk of the materials ranging from 1937 to 1978 (Poage's tenure in the U.S. House of Representatives). The collection consists of materials collected by Poage across his lifetime and are comprised of correspondence, legal documents, newspaper clippings, photographs, speeches, and other personal materials. The collection is arranged into seven different series that reflect different biographical topics or formats.

Series I. Biographical Materials is the most expansive series in the collection and contains materials related to Poage's personal life and family. This series includes a variety of formats, including family and business correspondence, financial and legal documents, manuscripts from his published books, newspaper clippings, certificates, and more.

Series II. Law Practice is the smallest series and focuses on Poage's work as a lawyer. This series is mostly correspondence with his clients and relevant legal documents. His practice ran from 1924 to approximately 1937, and primarily dealt with delinquent notes and collections, land and mineral leases, logistics companies, and probate law.

Series III. Photographs depicts Poage's personal and professional life, portraits from friends and colleagues, travels, illustrations and decorative paintings, event coverage, and more.

Series IV. Speeches consists of transcripts from most of Poage's speeches as a Representative. Poage spoke at many conferences and events during his tenure in Congress where he was a staunch advocate for farming and agricultural laborers. These transcripts come from radio and television speeches, keynote addresses, press releases, and excerpts from The Congressional Record.

Series V. Travel is split into two subseries and covers materials related to his travels as a Representative. Poage traveled frequently in his career as an appointee to the Interparliamentary Union and as a member of the House Committee on Agriculture. Subseries I. Poage Trips consists mostly of correspondence, itineraries, official documents, and other personal or government papers related to the logistics of his travels. Subseries II. Travel Information contains mostly brochures, postcards, stickers, maps, and other mementos collected from his travels.

Series VI. Three-Dimensional Artifacts consists of oversized and oddly shaped items collected during the lifetime of W. R. Poage. A significant amount of this series consists of plaques awarded to Poage from various organizations, but also includes an assorted button collection, Congressional license plates, books, silver dining materials, Stetson hats, and more.

Series VII. Audiovisual Materials contains a wide array of media formats. Bob Poage and his nephew Scott Poage collected over 4,000 slides from their travels around the world. The series also contains over 90 audio and film reels, many of which capture Representative Poage discussing prominent political issues of the time including care of the environment, the Agriculture Committee, civil protests, the seniority system in Congress, food prices, re-election campaigns, and retirement.

Administrative/Biographical History

William Robert "Bob" Poage, the son of William Allen Poage and Helen Wheeler Conger, was born on December 28, 1899, in Waco, Texas. The Poage family moved to Throckmorton County shortly thereafter, where William A. Poage worked as a rancher and cattleman. The Poages eventually returned to Waco in 1913. Five years later, in 1918, Poage graduated from Waco High School and joined the U.S. Navy as an apprentice seaman during the waning months of World War I.

After the war, Poage briefly attended classes at the University of Texas and the University of Colorado at Boulder before enrolling at Baylor University. In 1921, he graduated with a bachelor's degree in Geology. Poage taught geology from 1922 to 1924, while simultaneously working on his law degree. In 1924, he earned his law degree from Baylor University and gained admittance to the Texas Bar.

In that same year, Poage ran for political office, winning a seat in the Texas House of Representatives. He served in the Texas House from 1925 to 1929, all while practicing law in Waco and teaching at Baylor Law School. In 1928, Poage attempted but lost a bid for a seat in the Texas Senate and briefly returned to civilian life. In 1931, Poage sought to fill a Senate seat vacated by Edgar Witt. He won the special election this time, ultimately serving in the Texas Senate from 1931 to 1937.

Striving to increase his political influence, Poage tried to unseat U.S. Representative O. H. Cross of the 11th Congressional District of Texas. Poage lost in 1934, but succeeded in defeating Cross in 1936. It was to be the start of a long-tenured career for the Texas Democrat. On February 14, 1938, amidst his political successes, Poage married Frances Lenoir Cotton.

Poage served in the U.S. House from 1937 until his retirement in 1978, often running unopposed in the biennial elections. Drawing from his childhood experiences and education, Poage championed life in rural America, seeking improvements such as water and telephone services and helping to establish the Rural Electrification Administration. Often referred to as "Mr. Agriculture", Poage was a key member of the House Agriculture Committee from 1941 to 1978, chairing the committee from 1967 to 1974. Upon his retirement from the House in 1978, Poage was succeeded by Democrat Marvin Leath.

The W. R. Poage Legislative Library was opened in September 1979 in honor of Representative Poage and serves as the repository for his personal and congressional papers. Poage wrote five books during his lifetime including three in retirement: After the Pioneers (1969), Politics-Texas Style (1974), How We Lived (1980), McLennan County Before 1980 (1981), and his autobiography, My First 85 Years (1985).

Poage passed away during open-heart surgery in Temple, Texas, on January 3, 1987, and is buried in Waco's Oakwood Cemetery.

Archival Arrangement

The W. R. "Bob" Poage papers have been processed previously, most recently in 1995. Detailed finding aids and folder listings already existed prior to this latest round of processing.

Due to the large size of the collection, the W. R. "Bob" Poage papers are being divided into six new collections based on the existing series outline. The materials in the Personal papers were originally housed in Boxes #1022-1024, 1427-1501, 1572-1576, 1579-1633, and 1635-1667. Some loose materials have also been integrated with these files.

The Personal papers are now arranged into seven series based on the original organization: I. Biographical Materials, II. Law Practice, III. Photographs, IV. Speeches, V. Travel, VI. Three-Dimensional Artifacts, and VII. Audiovisual Materials.

Administrative/Biographical History

This series covers the entirety of W. R. Poage's tenure in the U.S. House of Representatives where he served twenty-one consecutive terms. Poage spoke at many conferences and conventions related to food production, agriculture, and other related fields as well as to local organizations in the district.

The speeches in this series are arranged chronologically. If two folders share the same date, then they are arranged alphabetically by title. The documents in this series are in good condition, with most items being a copied transcript of the original.

Series 6: Three-Dimensional Artifacts. 1949-1982, undated

Administrative/Biographical History

The items in this series are three-dimensional or oddly shaped items collected during Bob Poage's lifetime. A significant portion of this series consists of plaques awarded to the former Representative from a variety of organizations. The series also contains a small button collection, Congressional license plates, presidential pens, flags, Stetson hats, and more.

This series is primarily in good condition. It is organized alphabetically by item type and description. Most of the items in this series are kept in oversized boxes; however, several items are too large to fit in containers and are kept on the shelves with the collection.

Subseries 4. Tapes. 1959-1986, undated

Subseries IV. Tapes houses audio tapes, film reels, and VHS tapes of W. R. Poage. All formats primarily relate to speeches Poage delivered to his constituents, often during reelection campaigns, and address topics such as predatory animals, care for the environment, the House Agriculture Committee, food prices, civil rights protests, the seniority system in Congress, student loans, Fort Hood, and Poage's retirement at the end of 1978.

All of the materials in this subseries are digitized and located on a digital preservation server. The preservation identification numbers for each item are located in parentheses. Untitled materials have been reviewed and a basic description of the contents is included whenever possible. Please note there are a significant number of duplicates in this subseries, particularly in the audio tapes. In such instances, both copies have been kept and given unique preservation identification numbers. If you are interested in researching these materials, please contact the archivist for more details.
